LOS OLIVOS:

Back To The Drawing Board

By PATRICIA REID
Of The News Staff

Representatives from Maddox-Stabler Construction Co. of Los Angeles, contractors for the Los Olivos Modernization project, were present at Monday's meeting of the Housing Authority of Upland to present a request for renegotiation of their original contract.

The five commissioners had just received copies of a detailed letter sent to the Housing Authority Nov. 27 by Joseph Stabler of Maddox-Stabler Co. At the meeting Stabler reviewed the main points of the letter and reasons for renegotiation.

These included:
--Tenants refuse to move into half-modernized apartments. (This has caused contractors to work each group of units to completion before starting another group and is a slower process.)
--Changes in inspectors, contracting officer, architects and executive directors have caused problems of continuity in the supervision of construction.

--Higher costs and increased time spent because of agreement in contract to employ residents of the tract. Although a training program has been discontinued, the contractors continue to use tenants on the work force to "their financial detriment."

--Time delays and rising costs of materials has increased sub-contractors' costs.

Theodore Criley Jr., Contracting Officer for the Housing Authority, wrote a reply to the construction company answering the points in the letter and indicating that the Housing Authority "does not see any reason for not completing the job under the present contract."

Criley said the original contract provides for 10 units being worked on at a time, and that tenants were to move back into the units when the toilet, kitchen and cooking facilities were reconnected; with the finishing of remodeling work to be done while the units were occupied.

He said that moving into un-completed units proved to be unacceptable to tenants and that the construction company had agreed on Sept. 19 to have all work completed and accepted before tenants moved back in.

Criley presented a time schedule detailing the number of units which were completed on specific dates.

Jerry Leggett, executive director of the modernization project, reported that 12 units at a time were being turned over to the construction company at present and that no time lag had occurred since the present supervisory group has been in office.

Under another schedule Criley estimated that completion of the modernization project of 98 units would occur on April 13, 1973. The original contract completion date was set for Jan. 23, 1973. All things considered, the professional staff agreed to grant the construction company 81 days extension on the completion date.

72 Building Permits Issued

The Upland building department reports that 72 permits were issued in the month of November totaling $1.83 million in valuation.

Housing led the statistics with 36 permits issued for the construction of two homes and 112 apartments. The valuation of these developments totaled $1.7 million.

Additions and alterations brought 24 permits totaling $107,000 while seven permits for repairs, garages and pools brought the issuance of seven permits with $27,000 in valuation.

Two commercial additions and alterations brought another $1500 in construction. A sign was constructed for $600, a telephone pole for $100 and demolition for $250, city statistics showed.

He said, "We have recommended to the Commission that Change Order be executed for the total of 81 days extension but at no change in contract cost."

Criley stated that Housing Urban Development (HUD) officials wouldn't allow a renegotiation of the original contract.

Criley also said the Housing Authority had reimbursed the company for retroactive pay for the time the work was shut down this summer.

To date 62 units have been re-modernized. The commissioners didn't come to any conclusions at the meeting and agreed to discuss the matter further at a later date.

A resolution was passed which will allow the Housing Authority of Upland to apply for 200 rent-subsidy houses which are part of a new Experimental Housing Allowance Program in the county of San Bernardino. Leggett explained that the housing program is a new concept which will do away with concentrated blocks of rent-subsidized housing and allow scattered houses -- thus, preventing the creation of "ghetto areas."

The county will provide direct rental subsidies to low income families to enable them to select and lease existing, privately owned standard dwelling units for a period of two years; upon termination of such two year period, the Housing Authority of Upland will lease dwelling units in existing privately owned structures to provide housing for such families for an additional three year period.

City Attorney Donald R. Maroney said he wasn't sure how the 200 houses would be distributed throughout Upland or Montclair. If necessary a joint-powers agreement with Montclair could be made. Maroney said the question of the Upland Housing Authority passing over city boundaries wasn't as important an issue as the basic premise of providing help to low income families.

Mailing Deadlines Announced In Upland

Projecting a holiday volume of nine billion pieces of mail this year, Upland Postmaster Charles L. Welch announced a series of recommended mailing deadlines.

Two of these deadlines should be remembered by every member of the household. They are: Dec. 15 -- last day for mailing surface greetings within the United States; and Dec. 21 -- final date for posting all domestic airmail greetings and letters.

Postal officials are quite confident that all mail deposited before these suggested deadlines will be delivered in time for Christmas, which comes on a Monday this year.

In an effort to help customers with their "wrapping" worries, the Postal service has publicized a number of helpful tips some of which are:

If a single item is being mailed it should be cushioned with shredded paper, excelsior, compressed tissue paper, cloth, or expanded plastic foam.

If two or more items are mailed in the same carton or box, cushioning material should protect all items from contact with each other, and each item should have its individual wrapper.

Cardboard containers, including large soap, cereal boxes, etc., larger than the gift being mailed should be cut down to about the size of the gift to minimize shaking and breaking in transit.

Fragile articles must be individually cushioned, and all four sides of the container should be padded with cushioning material.

Tape used to seal containers should be durable type and should cover or secure firmly all flaps.

Council Discusses Policemen Salaries

At the Dec. 4 Upland Council meeting wages and salaries for policemen were discussed. In the discussion concerning a proposed resolution amending the Basic Pay Plan for policemen, Councilman George Gibson questioned the zero amount of dollars shown in the budget document under the Police Department educational incentive pay. (Salary of the Chief of Police was not included in the resolution and will be considered Dec. 18 by the Council.)

City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder explained how the figures in the incentive pay column of the budget were obtained. He said that negotiations with the Police Department were held and agreement was reached on certain amounts which were recommended by administration and approved by the council. Alder said the total amount approved for educational incentive pay was spread throughout the various classifications in the salary schedule.

The resolution between the City of Upland and the Upland Police Officers' Association calls for an increase in the Educational Incentive payable to Police Officers commencing Jan. 1, 1973. (This is the second half of a pay raise already received some months ago.) It states that sworn police officers of the city holding accredited degrees or having been awarded "certificates of achievement" from the Police Department may be paid an additional increment of their basic salary as indicated; (POST means California Peace Officers Standards and Training Certification Program.)

| Increment | Educational/ Training Achievement |
|--------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2.5 percent | Associate of Arts or Science degree |
| 5.0 percent | Associate of Arts or Science degree plus basic POST Certificate |
| 5.0 percent | Bachelor of Arts or Science Degree |
| 7.5 percent | Intermediate POST Certificate |
| 10.0 percent | Advanced POST Certificate |

'Old Fashioned' XMAS Slated

An old fashioned Christmas in "Upland Home Town U.S.A." is the theme chosen by the Chamber of Commerce and the Town Center Merchants Assn. for the day long festivities planned for Santa's welcome at the Kiosk this Saturday, Dec. 16.

The Old Fashioned promises of Christmas in Upland Home Town U.S.A. will be presented without Klieg lights or fender bumping.

Santa will arrive at 3 p.m. along with four Christmas elves, Miss Christmas and two living rag dolls -- Raggedy Ann and Andy.

The Upland Fire Department will escort the guests from North Pole to the Kiosk on the Christmas red fire engine.

Miss Christmas is Delores West; Kenny, Laurie, Michael and Wendy Stoepelman are the elves. Raggedy Ann and Andy will be portrayed by three year olds Missy Meldrum and Todd Hansen of Cucamonga.

Handmade toys including rocking horses and doll cradles will be a feature of Santa's workshop. Santa's toy maker may be reached by calling Hugh Lamphear at 406 East Arrow Hwy., Upland.

The Old Fashioned Christmas festivities will be highlighted with a "Winter Concert" presented by the historical Salvation Army Band of Ontario directed by Bandmaster Fred Chamberlain. The 13 member band includes Captain C. D. Danielson who will perform with the group. An arrangement of old time Christmas melodies will include Silent Night, Carol of the Bells, Jingle Bells and many others. The program is slated to begin at 12 noon with the 50 member Upland Highlanders Baton Review starting Jackie Stowers, championship solo twirler and director of the corps, returning to the Kiosk stage by popular request. The review will be presented through the courtesy of the Upland Recreation Dept. The Salvation Army band will perform from 1-2 p.m.

At 2 p.m. a Christmas Finery fashion show will be jointly sponsored by J. J. Atwood's Dept. Store; Mona's Dress Shop; and Upland Feed and Fuel, featuring holiday clothes for little people, adults and what the well groomed poodles are currently wearing in snow and rain.

The "New Community" is a recently formed group of young people belonging to the Upland First Presbyterian Church. Like the "Celtic Order" youth group formed at the church last year -- this energetic group has a lofty goal they're working for -- to raise money for a bicycle trip through Europe next summer. The fund-raising activities have started this month and will go on until summer. Last Sunday the group sponsored a version of "Scrooge." They're also holding a sale of Christmas Greens and maintaining a Christmas Tree Lot at the Village Shopping Center under the Safeway-Thriftly sign.

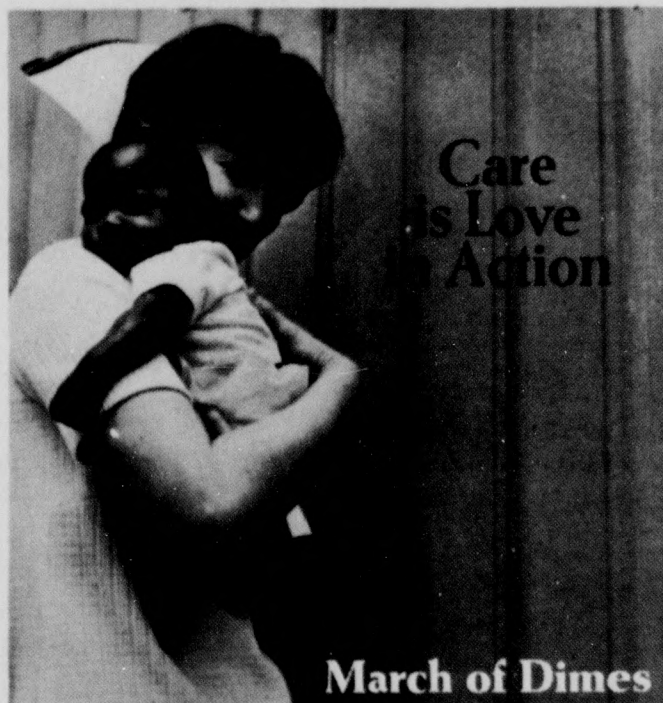

The group just opened an Ecology Center. It's a collection center for newspaper, aluminum cans, and glass. It's open for donations from the public at the corner of Second Ave. and Stowell (next to Rugg Lumber Co.). Every week the group visits Upland Convalescent Home for a devotional service with the residents.

The "New Community" plans to participate in a work project with a Christian community in Europe and to ride bicycles through parts of Europe. An important part of preparation for the trip will be class sessions conducted by the leaders designed to fully inform the youth about the history and culture of each place to be visited.

HAZELL FOX

In A Doll's World

By PATRICIA REID

Dolls are much more than inanimate objects to Hazell Fox. Although she's a nurse and has worked "full time" for 32 years, that vocation is sort of secondary to her real love of doll collecting and repairing.

She fondly reminisces that when she was a mere two years old in 1908, she had her first rubber doll—"my first love" she says. Since then she has expanded her doll collection more than 1,000 dolls of all types, ages and sizes.

Talking with Ms. Fox about dolls is a very intimate and warm experience because each doll she handles or refers to is talked about gingerly and in almost human terms. It doesn't take long to realize that the many dolls and parts of dolls lying around her workroom aren't just "work supplies" but very real and cherished items to such a doll lover.

Hazell Fox had a gift shop and "doll hospital" in Pomona for a number of years, she soon sold all the gift items and went into doll repairing in the shop full time as that was where the greatest need was. For the last few years she and her husband ran a convalescent home in Upland and she maintained her doll repairing work there. This October they moved into their sprawling adobe home in Montclair with attractive gardens and fish ponds and several studios where she and her husband, whose an artist, work. The Doll Hobby Hospital is now located at 5444 Palo Verde St. in Montclair. Her business card advertises, "No doll is hopeless."

She enjoys "doll hobby" so much that she wants to keep it as a hobby and not take so many orders that it becomes pressure and "work" to her. The only pressure she allows on getting dolls repaired is in "extra special cases"—for instance, right now she's knocking herself out to make a new cloth body for a well-worn doll that a little boy sleeps with every night.

Ms. Fox said she's made dolls since the time when she was a child and sat by the excavation of a new well at her home in Texas and molded dolls from the red clay found there. She said she sort of "fell into" the doll repair business when people came to her Pomona gift shop and wanted dolls fixed—she gradually built up a reputation for being able to repair them. She said, "When people first came to me for help in repairing their treasures, I seriously got into the study of dolls. Having repaired my own since before I was old enough to know the meaning of the work hobby, about five I think, it seemed real easy for me to do others."

The only lessons she had were from Ms. Grandon in Los Angeles who had the first doll hospital in the West. In the 1950's Ms. Fox gave her idea of making dolls of vinyl plastic to a large manufacturer of dolls in California. (this was a real breakthrough in the doll industry—now, nearly all dolls are made from this more durable material).

Ms. Fox can do every part of the art and technique of doll making and repairing very expertly—she hand paints detailed features on old worn faces—remakes and restuffs bodies and sews minute doll outfits with the tiniest buttons and notions imaginable.

Last Sunday she gave a special program on "dolls from far away times and far away places" at the Chaffey Communities Cultural Center in Upland. She has two special showcases in her home filled with antique dolls—representatives of different types of dolls and dolls made of all kinds of unusual materials.

She has an extensive collection of doll books and has become quite interested in the history of the doll collecting hobby. She speaks to numerous area groups and shows her more unusual dolls and tries to bring out a sense of the connection dolls have had with our culture since time began. "We've always had dolls and always will in some form," she says.

Now that she has an "ideal" studio again she has ambitious future plans to write a book on the complete history of dolls and a lighter one on "Dolls I Have Known and Loved." She plans to establish a doll museum to display her dolls for all to see and hopes to offer classes in making heirloom dolls from scratch.

The two latest types of dolls she's manufacturing are "Old Masters" reproductions and a new type of Rag Dolls. The Old Masters doll is made to look like a famous painting and placed in a shadow box. She says, "Rag dolls are one of the earliest and most beloved dolls known since the Egyptians perfected weaving, and rolls of rags made to resemble dolls have been found in the excavated mummy tombs. Many treasured rag dolls have had to be discarded because they became too dirty to be played with. Being a nurse I've seen the need for a rag doll that can be kept clean." She makes a rag doll with a removable cover that zips off.

Ms. Fox notes that dolls are among the top three of popular hobbies, ranking with coins and stamps—just as valuable money-wise, but much more so sentimentally. She said dolls now can do most anything humans do—but the mechanical parts break frequently. The old dolls found in grandmothers' trunks are very much in favor and are most diligently sought by collectors.

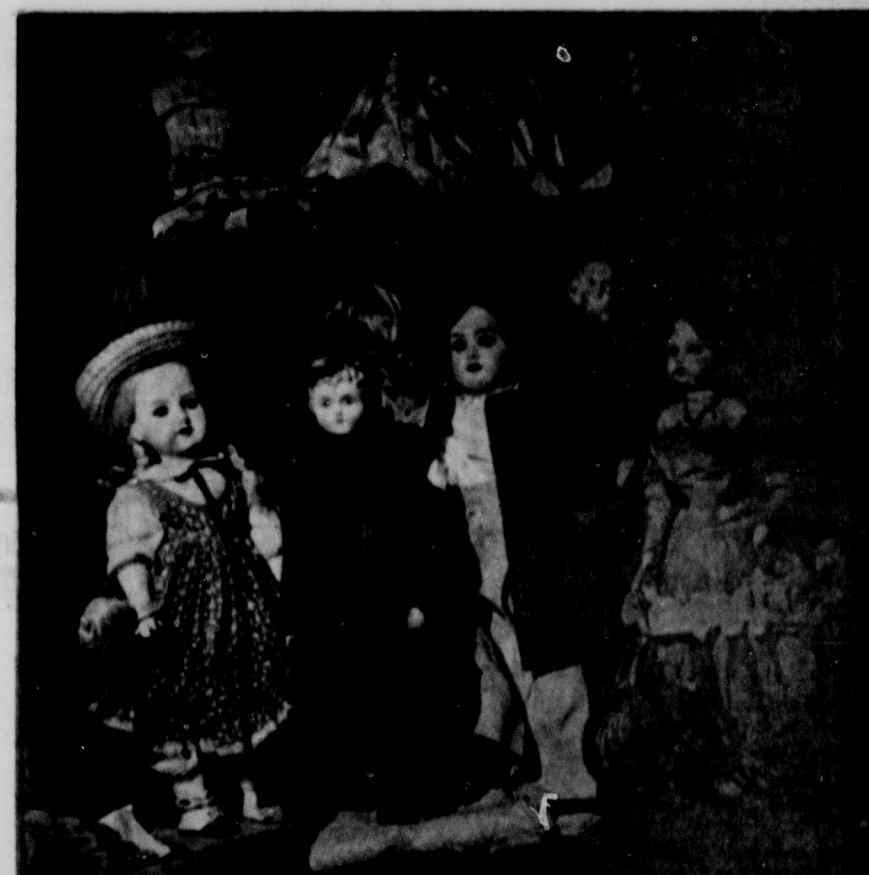

IT'S A DOLL'S WORLD -- Long time doll collector and "fixer-upper" Hazell Fox is shown with her handmade doll pictures of "Pinky" and "Blueboy" -- a third dimension "Old Masters" edition of the famous paintings -- placed in a shadow box.

Restaurants Approved

The Upland Planning Commission granted conditional use permits for two more restaurants last week.

The first permit was granted to Linda Belle Mielke, 815 W. 17th St., in Upland. She was seeking a conditional use permit to operate a restaurant and live above it at the southeast corner of First Ave., and D St. Commissioner Albert Canestro said he wouldn't vote for the permit because it was "not the type of building" he wanted to see across from a beautiful civic center. He also expressed fear that the building couldn't be modified enough to make it an asset to the area. Ms. Mielke was granted the permit for 36 months on a 3-2 vote.

The other restaurant is in the Alpha Beta shopping center on Foothill Blvd. It's for an "Alphy's Restaurant and Coffee Shop." Richard Anderson, an Upland attorney, spoke to the commission against the permit. He said a quick check he made had revealed there were already some 30 restaurants. If the permit was issued to Alphy's the number would reach 34, counting those now in the planning stages.

Dr. Phelps Speaks At Juniors' Meeting

Dr. Torrence Phelps was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Upland Junior Woman's Club. Dr. Phelps spoke on the importance of good nutrition, exercise and mental activity as a means of staying young.

Ms. Deanna Bowers, State Education chairman, California Federation of Woman's Club, Junior Membership was Upland Juniors' honored guest. Ms. Bowers is a member of the Pomona Junior Woman's Club.

Plans were discussed for the Juniors bake sale, with proceeds going to the building fund of Santa Claus Inc. in Ontario; the March of Dimes Bike-A-Thon on Dec. 2 at the Ontario Motor Speedway; sewing clothes for Project Concern in Tijuana, Mexico; and a spaghetti dinner in conjunction with the Upland Woman's Club with proceeds to WeTIP. There will also be a Christmas social with admission including a toy which will be presented at a party for a cottage of boys at LeRoy's Boys Home.

Astrology Aids In Christmas Giving

The excitement of the Christmas season begins in Sagittarius and culminates in Capricorn. Love of life, thoughtfulness and an enthusiastic pursuit of Christmas presents are Sagittarian qualities. The finalities of selection, expense and the personal glow from giving blend under Capricorn.

Other than subtle hints between friends, knowing which astrological sign is likely to appreciate what gift may ease the perplexities of the buying puzzle.

The following suggestions are based on the Sun or Rising sign. For Aries: the latest fad or 'in' thing of the moment is the key, be it records, a 'funky' watch, fashions or anything personalized. For Taurus: sculpture, a painting, needlepoint, anything to be treasured. For Gemini: books, a typewriter, a paperweight, anything humorous. For Cancer: antiques, cookbooks, silver, a country quilt, anything for the home. For Leo: a mirror, fashion accessories, theater tickets, anything pleasurable. For Virgo: historical novels, biographies, a desk set, an electric pencil sharpener, anything useful. For Libra: perfume, porcelain, candelabra, ballet tickets, anything beautiful. For Scorpio: wine cooler, leather goods, a gift certificate, anything mysterious. For Sagittarius: luggage, inspirational literature, a camera, anything adventurous. For Capricorn: a record player, clock, bookends or concert tickets, anything of quality. For Aquarius: books on archeology, political science, tomorrow's fashion, anything interesting. For Pisces: gloves, opera tickets, stationery, crystal, anything thoughtful.

Violet Society Will Meet

The Pomona Valley African Violet Society will meet at 1 p.m., Dec. 18 at the United Methodist Church in La Verne.

Also discussed will be the 1973 African Violet show schedule. Blooming plants, supplies and accessories will be for sale at the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

San Bernardino Opera Auditions Now Underway

A new year is beginning for the Metropolitan Opera Auditions. The district auditions for the San Bernardino - Riverside Counties District will be on February 18, 1973, in the Elsie Gibbs Auditorium at Pacific High School in San Bernardino. This will be the 13th year that the auditions have been held in this area under the direction of Gwendolyn Roberts, district director.

The purpose of the auditions is to discover new operatic talent and to make it possible for young singers in all parts of the country to be heard and aided in their careers. Approximately 1000 singers were auditioned in 1972 alone. Some 200 singers were heard in the Western Region. From the 10 districts 55 contestants participated in the quarter-finals with 4 singing in the semifinals, from which 10 finalists were selected to compete in the Western regional finals.

Open Wide Please

If you haven't had a tooth filled in 10 or 12 years, you probably still regard the experience as considerably worse than a trip to the IRS to explain those "business lunches."

Things have changed, though. Try it; you'll like it. According to Pomona Valley resident, Dr. Richard Kahn, chairman of the department of operative dentistry at the University of Southern California (USC) School of Dentistry, improvements in dental equipment and in techniques of administering anesthesia have eliminated pain and most discomfort from nearly all dental work. "We have had patients in the clinic at USC actually fall asleep while they were being treated," Dr. Kahn remarked.

"Our dental chairs are designed so that the patient is reclining while the student is working. Although the purpose of this design is to make it possible for the dentist to work while in a sitting position, it also results in a very comfortable position for the patient."

Patients no longer need to be afraid of the needle. "Methods of administering anesthesia have been greatly improved," Dr. Kahn remarked. "A topical anesthetic is rubbed on the mucous membrane in the mouth at the point where an injection is to be made. This numbs the surface so that the only sensation felt when the needle is inserted is a slight tickling."

The drill that used to feel like a battery of jack-hammers has been replaced by relatively quiet high-speed models with practically no vibration.

Children in the pedodontic clinic at USC seem unaware that they should be terrified of the dentist. "Children today very seldom have unpleasant dental experiences to remember," said Dr. Hugh Kopel of Los Angeles, chairman of USC's department of pedodontics. "When they are frightened it is usually because their parents show that they expect them to be, or because they associate the dentist's white coat with the pediatrician's shots."

Dr. Kopel observed that children in the clinic accept treatment very readily. "I think they are helped by seeing other children being treated near them," said Dr. Kopel. "They see that nobody is getting hurt."

auditions chairman, when plans for the coming season were made and recommendations were formulated for presentation to the National Committee in New York. Ms. Roberts reported on her progress in securing engagements for, not only finalists, but for local singers as well. The list was impressive.

"Under the regional auditions program such artists as Grace Bumbry, Mary Costa, George Shirley, Justino Diaz, Dominic Cassa, Karen Armstrong, and Jeannine Altmeyer, have been discovered. The opportunities and advantages of participating in these auditions are becoming greater and more exciting each year with the regional awards of over $3000, and two scholarships to Music Academy of the West being added to the awards provided by the National Council of $300, First Place; $200 Second Place; and $100, Third Place. And now these "doors that are being opened" through these professional engagements for the finalists to appear with symphonies and opera groups, adds much to the effectiveness of the auditions," said Ms. Roberts.

Winners from this district will also receive an award and will be sent to Los Angeles to compete in the regional quarter-finals in Hancock Auditorium on the Campus of the University of Southern California on Feb. 27 and 28, 1973, and the semi-finals on March 1, in Bovard Auditorium on the same campus, when winners from all ten districts in the Western regional area will be competing for an opportunity to appear in the Western regional finals on March 3 in Bovard Auditorium.

First place winners from this district will go directly to the semi-finals automatically, and the second and third place winners will compete in the quarter-finals for an opportunity to appear in the semi-finals.

"Applicants must have a voice with operatic possibilities, some voice training, musical background, but need not have professional experience or finished training. Age regulations are: Soprano - 18 to 30; Mezzo-Soprano and Contralto - 20 to 30; Tenor - 20 to 30; Baritone - 20 to 32; and Bass - 20 to 33," said Ms. Roberts.

Any and all singers of this area who are interested in the exceptional opportunity may secure information and brochures by contacting Miss Gwendolyn Roberts, 1898 Genevieve Street, San Bernardino, California 92405. Singers are urged to contact Ms. Roberts immediately so that arrangements may be made for scheduling appointments without delay.

'The Other Endeavor'-It Has A Surprising History

The Other Endeavor is an antique shop in Upland. The shop, located on A St., stands out simply because the building that houses it looks so old.

And it is old. "Built about 1881 or '82," said John, a prospector who helps Ms. Cathy Boyce and Jane King run their antique business.

"Cathy, Jane and I are all anxious to find out more about this building," John continued. "We only know a rough history of it. But what we do know is fascinating."

The Other Endeavor, situated across the street from the train station, was first built as a hotel. Weary travelers didn't have far to carry their luggage, and the hotel's five or six bedrooms provided ample space in those days.

Time passed and larger hotels were built. The building on A Street was transformed into Upland's first authentic bordello. "The place was as convenient for the girls as it had been for the people who ran the hotel," John said. "They could wave out the windows to prospective clients getting off the trains. I imagine they were a sight for sore eyes for some."

Following its existence as a bordello, the building became a respectable boarding house.

"After that," John continued, "I'm not too sure of the history. I know it's been an antique store off and on for a number of years. Whether it was ever anything else, I don't know."

The Other Endeavor is an interesting shop to visit, despite its peculiar history. The store boasts an ornate cash register that was made around 1897, and shipped to San Francisco in 1898 or '99. The walls are covered with decoupage works. Old newspapers and advertising signs have been glued to the walls, then painted over with plastic.

The Other Endeavor is also virtually packed with unusual relics. Early American furniture is mixed in with Victorian knickknacks. Sentimental Victorian landscape paintings and old-fashioned tinctures are for sale at the shop. There are even some old dresses from the 1920s and '30s -- for anyone planning an 'authentic' costume party.

According to John, "Cathy bought this building just over a year ago. She used to own a shop over in La Verne, and Jane helped her there."

Junior Women Are Santa's Helpers

According to the Post Office, letters addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole," and mailed in either Alta Loma or Cucamonga, will be certain to reach their destination.

The Cucamonga-Alta Loma Junior Woman's Club suggests that mothers enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for their children's return letters. Santa will write replies on his Christmas letterhead.

Empty stockings are now hanging on Christmas trees at four locations in the community. Each stocking represents a child who will have little or no Christmas -- without some help from others. The Juniors ask that local residents buy a gift apiece for the stockings, and leave their purchases with the store management. When a stocking is 'filled', it will be removed from the tree, and a stocking bearing the name of the person who provided the child's gift will be hung in its place.

Members of the Junior's youth committee will distribute the presents on Christmas Eve.

Roberta Lott Weds Edward L. Lair

Roberta Ann Lott and Edward Lewis Lair were married recently at Temple Baptist Church in Ontario.

The former Ms. Lott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lott of Ontario. She is a graduate of Chaffey High School and attended Chaffey College. Prior to her marriage she worked as a receptionist at Pace Arrow.

Roberta And Edward Lair

Mr. Lair is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lair of Ontario. He, too, is a graduate of Chaffey High School and attended Chaffey College. He is a member of the band at the Crescendo Club, and has been taking a commercial flight training course in Phoenix, Ariz.

The bride wore an empire, A-line gown of organza, with Alencon lace etched in pearls enhancing the bodice. Her french illusion veil was held in place by a cap of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

Matron of honor was Ms. Diane Haigh. Bridesmaids were Ms. Carol Hawkins, Gail Fredericks and Lynn Keith.

Best man was Gary Keith. Ushers were Ronald Waters, Kevin Faught and Marlin Miller.

Ms. Kimberly Johnston was flower girl and Curtis Jordan was the ring bearer.

The couple is at home in Phoenix.

Greet Carolers With Cookies And Creamy Eggnog

After an evening of caroling 'round the neighborhood, it's nice to bring your friends in from the cold and greet them with the warm glow of an open fire. The atmosphere is cozy; the setting informal, so casual entertaining is called for. Invite your guests to nibble from a tray of delicious Christmas cookies and to help themselves to steaming mugs of Mulled Cider Eggnog.

When they bite into Stuffed Date Drops, they'll get a couple tasty surprises. First the unique flavor of smooth browned butter frosting melts in the mouth. Hidden inside the nutmeg-spiced cookies are delicious dates stuffed with walnuts. Sour cream lends its distinctive taste and tender quality to the Date Drops. Royal Fudge Brownies treat the nibbler to candied cherries and crunchy chopped walnuts. This chewy chocolate cookie is sweetened with Creme de Menthe, the popular mint flavored liqueur. Chocolate Pixies are a favorite snack with little elves and other children.

Although they're chock-full of chocolate and chopped walnuts, visions of sugar-sprinkled Pixies will still dance in the children's heads with buttery lightness.

Trying to decide whether to serve hot apple cider or eggnog with the Christmas cookies? Serve both flavors in Mulled Cider Eggnog. Apple cider is heated and spiced with cinnamon, cloves, allspice and ginger for snappy flavor. Added to creamy eggnog, it becomes a rich, nutritious beverage that warms the tummy while the fire warms the heart. Your guests will enjoy several cups of this holiday cookie companion, so keep it at serving temperature in a heatproof pitcher over a small warmer.

Wholesome Beef Is A Two - Way Meal Ticket

The Spanish motto, roughly translated to "may there be health, love and money and time to enjoy them" is reflected in this simple two-way recipe for about the easiest possible way to make beef chili. Unless you give your secret away it would be difficult for anyone to guess how really basic it is. The wholesome beef is delightfully seasoned and its savory sauce is mellow and spicy.

In choosing beef for this tasty entree, we usually decide which cut to buy after checking on the weekend specials. As a matter of fact, lean boneless beef chuck is ideal... but so is stew, brisket, round or rump or any of the other less tender cuts. Along with beef, all it takes to make this economical two-way meal is canned bouillon or beef broth and Spanish red chili sauce. The canned sauce is the enchilada and taco variety, not the condiment kind that goes in salad dressings and such.

Another good thing about this recipe is that it may be served a couple of ways. With rice or canned red kidney beans it's a hearty meal. Roll it in flour tortillas, top with grated cheese and chopped green onions and heat in the oven for another version. With this sort of entree you can round out the menu with a tossed green salad or a simple assortment of raw vegetables like carrot and celery sticks, strips of green pepper, radishes, cherry tomatoes.

Barbecued Beef Round Al Fresco A thrifty, nifty cut of California beef round to cut into chunks and skewer before going to the coals. Cook so it's crusty on the outside and rare and juicy on the inside.

2 pounds California beef top round, first cut about 2 inches thick

1/4 cup tarragon wine vinegar
1/4 cup sherry
1 mashed clove garlic

Cut beef round into 2-inch squares. Combine vinegar, sherry and garlic. Pour over beef chunks, tossing to coat all sides. Let stand 15 minutes. Thread on skewers, leaving about an inch between beef squares. Grill on barbecue or in broiler, turning to brown all sides. Remove from skewer and cut into thin slices across the grain. Delicious to serve with French bread and Chili Salsa. Makes about 4 servings. *Sometimes known as London Broil.

Chili Salsa
1/4 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped celery

1 cup drained chopped tomato
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (7-ounce) can green chili salsa
Combine all ingredients. Chill several hours. Makes about 3 cups.

Easy California Beef Chili 2 pounds lean boneless beef chuck, stew, round, rump or brisket

1 (10-ounce) can Spanish red chili sauce
1 (10 1/2-ounce) can beef bouillon or broth

*enchilada or taco sauce
Cut beef into 1/2-inch pieces, trimming off fat. Simmer beef, chili sauce and bouillon in covered pan about 45 minutes or until tender. If desired, thicken sauce with 2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed to a paste with cold water. Makes about 6 servings.

One Way: Serve beef chili with beans or rice.
Two Way: Wrap beef chili in flour tortillas. Cover bottom of shallow baking dish with sauce from beef chili. Place rolled tortillas in sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and chopped green onions. Heat in moderate oven (350) 10 to 15 minutes until piping hot and cheese melts.

A Special For Brunch Lunch

On the social scene only since the turn of the century, brunches are turning up everywhere—in restaurants from pub to plush, in private homes and clubs.

Combining a planned breakfast with the qualities of an informal luncheon, brunch is an easy and pleasant way to entertain. Set up buffet-style, guests serve themselves. The menu should be simple and inviting.

What could be more American, more appropriate than sausage and eggs?

This sausage ring not only has the intriguing flavor addition of apricots and apples, but it also features the subtle but distinctive taste of beer.

To complete the menu: cornbread, butter, honey and hourglass shaped mugs of light, sparkling beer.

Beer Brunch Sausage Ring
Two pounds pork sausage
3/4 cup uncooked oatmeal
1 1/2 cups chopped unpeeled apple
1/2 cup chopped dried apricots
1 egg (slightly beaten)
1/2 cup beer
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. garlic powder
12 eggs
salt pepper.

'I'm Thirsty!'

What To Give Johnny?

What can a mother give her children to satisfy their thirsts and add nutrients to their diet?

Some fruit flavored soft drink mixes and canned fruit drinks have vitamin C added. However, these drinks do not contain the trace minerals and other vitamins found in pure fruit juices. The drink mixes are mainly a sugar and water mixture, states University of California Home Advisor Sharon Higgins.

To make your own fruit drink, try these recipes for a nutritious drink.

Fruit Drink. Double the amount of water to stretch a can of frozen fruit juice. Kids can have a nutritious drink all day.
1 6-oz. can frozen fruit juice concentrate (21-29¢)
6 cans water (or double amount called for one can)
1/4 cup sugar (or syrup from canned fruit) (1.5¢)
lemon juice, to taste (optional)

Combine all ingredients in a large jar or pitcher. Mix well. Makes about 6 servings of 8 oz. each. Total cost 24.5-30.5¢ for 44-48 oz. Orange Chiller. A bonus drink—has vitamin C and calcium, tastes good too!

1 quart liquid nonfat milk (13¢)
1 6-oz. can frozen orange juice (21-29¢)
3 tablespoons sugar (1¢)

Pour half of the milk into a large jar or pitcher. Mix in juice and sugar. Add rest of milk. Mix well. Chill. Stir or shake before serving. Makes about 5 servings of 8 oz. each. Total cost 37-43¢ for 38 oz.

A comparison of costs for an 8-oz. serving shows a slight cost advantage to preparing your own fruit drink.

Fruit drink made at home 4-5¢
Orange chiller 7-9¢
Purchased imitation fruit drink or juice 6-9.5¢
Fruit flavored soft drink mix 2/3-4¢

Avocado Chef's Salad Cooler--A Winner

Cold outside. Hot inside? Cool off with refreshing salad coolers. Particularly enticing for mid-day dining is the traditional chef's salad. Not only is it satisfying and nutritious, this salad also gives the cook a chance to use up many of the left over meat and vegetable tidbits that seem to crowd refrigerator shelves at the end of the week. Traditionally, the chef's salad consists of tossed greens mixed with meat such as turkey, ham and tongue and julienned cheese such as Swiss. Sliced or chopped hard-cooked eggs are appropriate too. AVOCADO CHEF'S SALAD COOLER

1 head iceberg lettuce, torn into pieces
1 head butter lettuce, torn into pieces
4 green onions, sliced
4 radishes, sliced
1 package (10-oz.) frozen asparagus spears, cooked, drained, chilled
1/4 lb. each cooked ham, cooked turkey and Swiss cheese, cut in strips

2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 ripe California avocados, peeled, sliced and dipped in lemon juice
In salad bowl, toss iceberg and butter lettuce with green onion and radish slices. Top with an arrangement of asparagus, ham, turkey, Swiss cheese, eggs and avocado slices. Serve with generous portions of Avocado Salad Dressing. AVOCADO SALAD DRESSING SUPERB
1 egg
1/2 cup salad oil

3/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 ripe avocados, peeled, diced
4 green onions
1 small garlic bud
4 flat anchovy fillets, drained (optional)
1/2 cup mayonnaise
In blender jar, whirl all ingredients until smooth and creamy. Pour into container and chill 2 hours.

BROWNED BUTTER FROSTING:
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1 1/4 cups confectioners sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
1-2 tablespoons water
To prepare Date Drops: Stuff each date with a quarter of walnut. In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and continue beating until blended. Beat in egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg; add alternately with sour cream to creamed mixture. Fold in stuffed dates. Drop onto baking sheets allowing one date per cookie. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven, 8 - 10 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool. To prepare Frosting: In a small saucepan heat butter over medium heat, stirring constantly, until light amber color. Remove from heat. Add sugar and vanilla. Add water gradually until spreading consistency and beat until smooth. Frost cookies quickly. Yield: about 3 dozen.

Year-End Tax Tips

From the California Society of Certified Public Accountants, some things to watch for in your personal Federal income tax return.

DEDUCT CASUALTY LOSSES
A deduction is allowable for a sudden, unexpected or unusual event which results in the loss or destruction of property. The rule applies whether the property is personal or business.

Deductible losses include: automobile damage to taxpayer's pleasure car caused by his or another's faulty driving, theft or vandalism losses and damage to a residence caused by fire, flood or wind.

The amount deductible as a personal casualty loss is calculated by determining the value of the property just before the casualty, subtracting its value immediately after and reducing that amount by any insurance recovery plus $100.

In any case, the deduction is limited to the original cost, plus improvements, of the property lost or damaged.

Be sure you can prove your loss. The best way is to get a report from a competent appraiser. And don't forget the appraisal fees which are separately deductible.

LONG-TERM CAPITAL OFFSET SHORT-TERM CAPITAL GAINS

When a taxpayer has long-term capital losses exceeding his long-term capital gains on the sale of capital assets, only one-half of these losses can be used to offset ordinary income.

However, if he takes short-term gains, the long-term losses can offset the gains dollar for dollar. If you were going to hold off taking that gain until 1973, take another look -- perhaps it will be of more value, from a tax standpoint, to take it as a short-term gain in 1972.

TIMING THE CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTION

A taxpayer can deduct only a charitable contribution he has paid during the taxable year. A gift of property is considered a payment when all interest in and rights to the property have passed from the taxpayer to the recipient.

A contribution in the form of a pledge is not deductible until the pledge is paid and a donation charged on a bank credit card is not deductible until the bank is repaid. However, if a taxpayer makes his contribution by check, the contribution is considered made when the check is delivered or mailed, even if the check is not cashed until the following year.

TIMING YOUR INCOME

For a cash basis taxpayer, there is an opportunity for tax savings by means of timing the receipt of income. For example, cash-basis taxpayers in service businesses usually can step up collections in 1972 or put off billings until the following year.

However, taxpayers may not defer income "constructively received" (like refusing payment of a payroll check presented).

The acceleration of a large amount of income into one year can prove to be good year-end strategy. The tax consequences of a large burst of income can often be offset by the income averaging break or the new 50 percent maximum tax on earned income.

PLANNING THE CHARITABLE DEDUCTION

The higher an individual's tax bracket, the less his contributions to church and charity will cost him. For example, the after-tax cost of a $100 donation to a taxpayer in the 25 percent bracket is only $75.

A taxpayer should time his charitable gifts to insure he does not run afoul of the various limitations.

Generally, an individual can deduct his cash contributions if they do not exceed 50 percent of his adjusted gross income and are made to governmental units or publicly supported organizations (such as the Red Cross, churches, schools and the United Crusade). More complicated rules, including the possible imposition of 30 percent and 20 percent limits apply to gifts of property and gifts to non-publicly supported charities such as private foundations.

MAKE THE MOST OF THE INCREASED STANDARD DEDUCTION

Since the standard deduction has increased to 15 percent of adjusted gross income (up to a maximum of $2,000 in 1972), the timing of itemized deductions has become a vital dollar-saving tactic. For taxpayers whose itemized deductions approximate the standard deduction, careful timing of itemized deductions will often increase their total allowable deductions over a two-year period.

For example, a taxpayer with adjusted gross income of $13,000 in 1972 and itemized deductions of $2,000 should take the standard deduction of $2,000 and postpone as many itemized deductions to next year as possible since they give him no tax benefit in the current year.

TIMING ADVICE FOR INCOME PROPERTY OWNERS

Spend the same amount of money and save taxes! Personal property (furniture, draperies, appliances, for example) with a 6-year or more useful life qualifies for first-year bonus depreciation in addition to any regular depreciation straight-line or rapid, taken for the year.

The "bonus" deduction for an individual is 20 percent of the first $10,000 cost ($20,000 on a joint return). A new allowance is available each year.

Therefore, a taxpayer should try to split his purchases between 1972 and 1973 so that if $20,000 of personal property is purchased, $10,000 of it falls in each year.

Another important consideration is whether to make needed repairs now or in the new year. The cash basis taxpayer has an additional planning tool by deferring payment of December bills until January, if the tax benefit may be greater in the subsequent year... and vice versa.

STAGGER YOUR MEDICAL EXPENSE

Because of high limitations (see below), it behooves a taxpayer to try to bunch medical expense payments so they are paid every other year.

Therefore, a taxpayer should review his medical expense situation before year-end to determine the best year to pay all bills. Medical expense cannot be paid before the related services are performed, though.

Keep these limitations in mind before the decision is made to pay medical bills in either December or in January.

1. Medical expenses can be deducted only to the extent they exceed 3 percent of your adjusted gross income.

2. The cost of drugs and medicine is counted as medical expense only to the extent it exceeds 1 percent of adjusted gross income.

3. One-half the amount spent on medical care insurance protection can be deducted without regard to the medical expense limitation up to a maximum deduction of $150. The remainder of the premium is grouped with other medical expenses subject to the 3 percent rule.

PREPAY PROPERTY TAXES

Generally in California, real property taxes are due in two installments of one-half each. The due dates are:

First installment: December 10.

Second installment: April 10. Paying the April 10, 1973, installment in 1972 can possibly save income taxes. By doing this, a taxpayer may be able to take advantage of the standard deduction in 1973.

Old Theatre Guild Returns To Area

Theatre-goers will be pleased to learn that the Theatre Guild is returning to the Los Angeles area, and will conduct a subscription of six plays and musicals at the new Shubert Theatre in Century City.

After an absence of three seasons, the Theatre Guild, a 40-year-old organization now feels that the Shubert Theatre entering the Los Angeles theatre scene with a superior facility, they can once again, offer first-class productions to both former and new subscribers.

Included in the first series of six shows will be Rex Harrison in the brand-new production of Pirandello's "Emperor Henry IV," opening the season on Jan. 29.

Ms. Carol Channing is heading for the Shubert in her musical, "Lorelei," an all-new version of her classic "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and Ms. Sada Thompson will star in the hit comedy,

"Twigs," which won her the Tony Award for Best Actress.

Three additional attractions of equal stature that will be included in the series are now being carefully assembled.

Timing did not permit the Theatre Guild to include the new original Dory Previn musical, "Mary C. Brown and the Hollywood Sign." This premiered Nov. 26 at the Shubert Theatre.

According to Co-Administrator Jesse Gross the Theatre Guild is not only pleased with the perfection of the Shubert Theatre for their subscribers, but they feel the entire Century City surroundings offer a unique ambience.

Application forms for the subscription series may be obtained by writing Theatre Guild, Shubert Theatre, 2020 Avenue of the Stars, Century City, 90067 or for information call (213) 556-1613.

Wine, Consumer Course Available

Wine and the Consumer, a popular course offered for the first time this fall, will be sponsored again winter quarter by the California State Polytechnic University, Pomona extension division. The class will meet Thursdays, Jan. 11 through March 15 from 7 to 10 p.m. at Temple Shalom, 1912 W. Merced Ave., West Covina.

Designed to add to the knowledge of the interested wine drinker, Wine and the Consumer will cover the subject of wine--from the vine to the table--with emphasis upon wine and food. Class participants will taste and evaluate a representative sampling of California wines against wines selected from the rest of the world. Emphasis will be placed upon sensory evaluation of wines in accordance with a standard scoring system developed by the enology department of the University of California, Davis. In addition, Dr. Ralph B. Hutchinson, Cal Poly professor of economics and course instructor, will stress the history of wine making, especially in California, and the geography of world wine production.

Hutchinson is author of numerous articles on wine and the wine industry including soon to be published articles on reading wine labels. He developed an interest in and knowledge of wine while writing his PhD dissertation on the economics of the California wine industry. He has worked in the public relations department of Robert Mondavi Winery, Oakville, and is a consultant to Winery Systems, Inc., a wine industry consulting firm. Presently he is writing a history of wine making in southern California.

For further information and to register, contact the Cal Poly educational services office at Kellogg West, (714) 598-4391.

Breathing Can Be Fun

Added safety and clean air protection features are being built into new cars, but they are going to cost the consumer about $100 per car, according to a recent auto news bulletin.

Quality improvements for domestic 1973 model passenger cars will be valued at $95.40 at manufacturers' prices and $123.80 at retail, reported the bulletin.

These figures reflect primarily the impact of changes to meet the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards and the Federal Clean Air Act.

Automobile factories already have spent millions of dollars in research and development of newly required pollution controls, the bulletin said. While objections to these controls have been almost nonexistent, some mechanics and new car owners note that gasoline mileage and power are decreased as a price for cleaner engine exhausts.

In the case of some owners of high-performance automobiles, pollution controls are disconnected or entirely removed. The bulletin said that federal law prohibits anyone -- including new car dealers -- from disconnecting or tampering with pollution controls before the new machine reaches the buyer.

Pay May Go Up

Dr. Earl W. Brian, California's Secretary of Health and Welfare, has announced that physicians, dentists, pharmacists, and most other health care providers serving the State's Medi-Cal patients will get a five percent fee increase.

Dr. Brian said a two-and-a-half percent fee increase for non-institutional providers will go into effect for services beginning November 1. The remaining 2 1/2 percent is subject to approval by the Federal Price Commission. Some 78,000 individual practitioners and suppliers will benefit from the new scale.

"In view of the recent rapid rise of health care costs, this increase will help ensure the continuation of quality medical care for Medi-Cal patients," Brian said.

He continued, "Physicians have not had a fee increase since 1967, and other non-institutional providers also have been held steady for at least three years."

"We feel that a five percent increase is not inflationary in light of that history," he added.

Hospitals have received annual increases up to 12 percent by Federal law. A nine percent rate increase recently was approved for 1,300 nursing homes. Therefore, these providers were not included in the new 5 percent fee hike.

The non-institutional increase is expected to cost the program about $2 million a month for the remainder of the 1972-73 fiscal year which ends June 30, 1973. The increased fees will be paid from available Medi-Cal funds. The statewide health care program for 2.3 million poor is budgeted for $1.4 billion in State and Federal funds.

Names Are Submitted

Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda have each submitted a list of names of persons as possible candidates for a Municipal Advisory Council to area Supervisor Daniel Mikesell. Community meetings were held in each of the tri-communities to nominate the candidates to serve on the first MAC governing unit for the area.

Etiwanda candidates: C.R. "Bill" Williams, Donald Hansen, Douglas Walker and Michael Scarlotta.

Cucamonga candidates: Ms. Betty McNay, Matt Filippi, Dan Milliken, Herb Vaughn, Carl Brancaslo, Ms. Celia Martinez and Marilyn Thompson.

Alta Loma candidates: Herb Hall, Al Cherbak, Ms. Helen Neill, Stan Allen, Frank Kirnig, Roy Houtz, Don Barnier and Vern Woodring.

If the MAC is established Monday, Supervisor Mikesell will select 2 names from each list to represent the three communities. The six would then select a seventh man from one of the communities to round out the final seven-man MAC board.

THE ARTS

'Sounds Of Christmas' To Ring Friday, Dec. 15

"The Sounds of Christmas" will ring out on Citrus College "Evenings at Eight" on Friday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The fifth program in the 1972-73 community cultural series will feature the Citrus College chamber singers and the concert choir under the direction of Ben Bollinger; the college concert band under the direction of Dr. Anthony Desiderio, and the college chamber chorale under the direction of Don Brinegar. Membership in the four musical groups totals 190.

The 30 Citrus College chamber singers, who extended their fame internationally last summer with their selection to represent American community colleges at the Vienna Symposium, will sing a variety of numbers ranging from classical to contemporary. In the former classification will be the inspiring "Exultate Deo" by Scarlatti, "Adoremus Te" by Clement, and "Alma Redemptoris Mater" by Palestrini.

Demonstrating their versatility, the chamber singers will continue with popular Christmas selections and carols from around the world. They will climax the program with a variety of familiar holiday musical settings.

Among numbers to be sung by the 75-member concert choir, comprised of college day students, will be "Twelfth Night" by Barber, three Austrian carols, an English carol, and the reverent "Silent Night."

The 55-member concert band will play three movements of "Suite" by Handel, "Sleigh Ride" by Anderson will be presented by the stage band.

Malcolm's life, from the grinding poverty into which he was born in Omaha in 1925 through his Michigan boyhood, his young Harlem manhood as thief, dope peddler, pimp and hoodlum and convict, became public after his conversion to Elijah Muhammad's Nation of Islam and his emergence as its foremost spokesman. A critical assessment of one of the most complex and charismatic figures of our time will be presented in a UCLA Extension lecture series that begins Jan. 3 at UCLA.

"Life and Time of Malcolm X," will meet eleven Wednesdays, 7-10 p.m., in Rolfe Hall and will trace the milieu which shaped him into a man of our time who grew and changed and tempered his views to his intellectual maturity alone -- and never to the times.

With his break with Muhammad and his pilgrimage to Mecca, ending what he himself termed "the sickness and madness" of his racism, Malcolm emerged as a figure of true stature, a man recognizing good and evil men of all races and striving to give his own its manhood and identity. And slowly, with his own awareness of the fanatics left behind, the days of his martyrdom drew near.

E. Victor Wolfenstein, associate professor of political science at UCLA, will be the instructor. Guest speakers and panelists will include Robert Beck (Iceberg Slim), author; Henry McGee, law professor Boniface I. Obichere, associate professor in American Studies.

In the initial lecture, Mr. Wolfenstein will discuss the meaning of Malcolm X and his continuing influence as a symbol of Black America's struggle for freedom, unity and dignity. Subsequent lectures and their topics will be Jan. 10, "Malcolm Little: Heritage and Early Life;" Jan. 17, "The Black Underworld;" Jan. 24, "Detroit Red in Harlem;" Jan. 31, "The Black Man and the Law;" Feb. 7, "Satan in Chains;

Determined Garey Takes M-U Basketball Tourney

WAITING -- Upland and Gladstone players maneuver for positions under the ball. Gladstone took third place in the Montclair-Upland Basketball Tournament, dumping Upland.

Greg Ballard, Garey's star player, led his team to victory Friday night in the 13th annual Montclair - Upland basketball tournament. The finals were held in the Montclair gym at 8:00.

Ballard's 6-7 frame and the leadership talents of Reggie Jordan drove the Vikings to an 82-63 romp over the Ganesha Giants. Ballard bested 20 rebounds and scored 17 points for a tourney total of 85 points, the high for the meet.

Jordan came in with a smooth 18 points in the final game, Garey's starters, Ballard, Staten, Jordan, Clark, and Childress jumped into an early lead, ending the first quarter with 22-13 showing on the board.

Ganesha came within four points of the Vikings at the half, but lost it all in the third quarter. Jordan and Staten ran the ball back from the rebounds so fast that the Giants had nothing down court to block them with.

Upland and Gladstone battled a third place spot, with the Gladstone taking the game.

Azus took the consolation crown in a 55-42 win over Northview, leading the game all the way.

The 1972 all tournament team was announced, with Garey, Gladstone and Ganesha placing two men apiece. Pomona, Azusa, Northview and Eisenhower contributed one each.

| Name | Height | School |
|------------------|--------|------------|
| Greg Ballard | 6-7 | Garey |
| Dave Castenada | 5-10 | Gladstone |
| Bruce Haywood | 6-2 | Pomona |
| Mike Jantz | 6-6 | Azus |
| Reggie Jordan | 6-1 | Garey |
| Gary Melugin | 6-4 | Ganesha |
| Mike Montoya | 6-0 | Northview |
| Cleve Porter | 6-5 | Ganesha |
| Richard Ramsauer | 6-7 | Eisenhower |
| Casey Rudd | 6-1 | Gladstone |

The awards for best team hustle and best team defense went to Gladstone and Garey respectively.

Swimmers Score Well

Members of the Montclair Swim Club began their winter competition in an indoor distance meet sponsored by the Inland Empire Swim Conference, Dec. 9. The 25 Montclair swimmers took 14 individual medals.

Events entered by the MSC were the 200, 400 and 500 yard freestyle, the 200 and 400 yard individual medley and the 400 and 800 yard freestyle relays. The team took second place in two categories--the boys' 11-12 year-old 400 yard free relay, and the boys' 13-17 year-old 800 yard relay. They placed third in the 11-12 year-old girls' 400 yard free relay.

Individual medal winners were: Margie Burrows, Jodi Eastin, Kevin Eastin, Scott Glasgow, Alice Hall, Mike Harbottle, Earl Welliver, and Ryce Welliver. Swimmers in the boys' 11-12 year-old relay were Kevin Eastin, Earl Welliver, Randy Mages and John Tyke. Boys in the 13-17 year-old relay were Scott Glasgow, Dale Cockrell, Mike Harbottle, and Bruce Frye. Girls in the 11-12 year-old relay were Alice Hall, Margie Burrows, Jodi Eastin, and Nancy Burrows.

Mt. SAC Defeats Chaffey In 'Rout'

The Chaffey College basketball team seems content not to switch trains, even though the one they're on could carry them to another no-win season. The Panthers lost their sixth straight to Mt. San Antonio College hosts, Saturday night, 83-52.

The Mounties were gathering in their fifth win in eight tries after a narrow loss to Rio Hondo Friday, 74-68.

MSAC may have put together its best game in a young season in routing Chaffey, which can't seem to get untracked despite experience and size.

There was only one flash of excellence Saturday, and it came from Bob Kovach, a 6'5", 205-pound freshman from Fontana, who was the only Panther in double figures, with 19 points.

Kovach couldn't do it alone, however, and behind sophomore forwards Jim Bogdanowicz and Mike Leatherby, the Mounties rolled to a commanding lead early and had an 11-point bulge at halftime, 36-25.

Boggy, MSAC's only returning starter from the 1971-1972 team, poured in 20 points, and Leather-by, a transfer from the University of Utah and a former Walnut High star, dropped in 19. They combined to grab 20 rebounds, and the Mounties led in that department, 33-28.

And it was probably the best game of the season for young Steve Arthur, the freshman guard, who was the Progress Bulletin's high school player of the year when he was at Chaffey last season.

Making his fourth start in a row, Arthur scored 10 points, made half a dozen steals and collaborated with backcourt mate Stu Campbell in setting up Boggy and Leatherby with seven assists.

So the Mounties have a big win for momentum and the Panthers hope they have enough bad games in back of them to start afresh this week when both teams compete in the annual Chaffey Invitational.

The 16-team tourney begins Wednesday with Chaffey playing San Diego Mesa and MSAC getting a rematch with Citrus in the first round of the event.

Panthers' Lupinetti Is Team's 'Star'

Jim Lupinetti, Panther heavyweight, was the only bright spot in Chaffey's wrestling forays at Fullerton State College.

Twenty-three schools participated in the Junior College competition Saturday, with El Camino taking top honors.

Lupinetti dropped his opening bout to Rudy Huerta, the state champion from Imperial Valley College who went on to win the individual title.

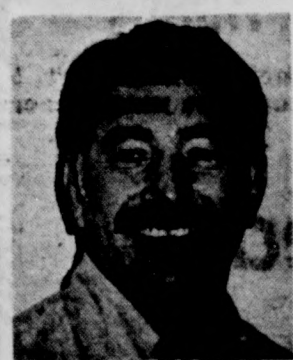

After being pinned by Huerta in the second period, Lupinetti took four straight bouts in consolation action to gain third place. The freshman from Chaffey High School pinned Cesar Garcia of Hartnell in the first period, decisioned George Benekos of El Camino by an 8-3 margin, gained a forfeit win over Ray Kreitner of Fullerton and pinned Robert de Journet of Citrus.

Chuck Looney, Roy Boeddeker and Mike Brookman all took one win in three bouts for the Panthers, while Kay Kanak and Mike Hargraves dropped their only matches. Tom Medina lost both of his matches to round out the Chaffey activities.

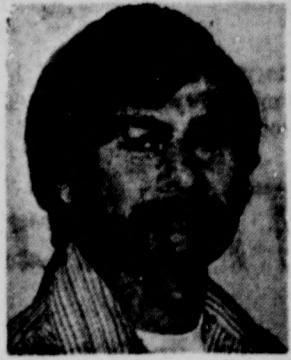

Boeddeker, who hurt a knee during the competition, was impressive in losing twice by one point -- the scores being 11-10 and 6-5.

The Panthers face three opponents in dual meets Tuesday at San Bernardino Valley College -- Golden West, East Los Angeles and Moorpark.

Dick, Jane--Meet Spot

"Everyone please say soft prayers
For tamed and shabby tigers
And dancing dogs and bears."
--R. Hodson

The Humane Society of the Pomona Valley would like to see every placeable animal in their shelter get a good home before Christmas. "But," stresses Bruce Richards, head of the animal shelter, "we want to give our animals only to responsible people -- to people who will love, respect and appreciate them."

According to Richards, "This animal shelter is by no means just a dog or cat pound. We don't bring in animals with the expressed intent of selling them -- to anybody -- right away or, barring that, killing them. Everyone on this staff has great respect for animals of every type -- including wild animals."

"When someone comes in and says he wants a dog or cat, the first question we ask him is why. If he says he wants a dog for hunting purposes, we won't sell him an animal. In our opinion, hunters and their dogs are a detriment to wild animal life. Naturally, we don't approve of this. By the same token, if someone comes in and says he wants to buy a cat to catch rats, we realize the possible danger to the cat, and won't sell him an animal either."

Richards continued, "We like to say our animals are 'adopted' when they leave the shelter. Animals need love, care and affection. It's our job to see that they get it."

According to Richards, all potential pet owners are asked the following questions:

1) How much do you know about animals and their problems?
2) Does your family know you're planning to buy a pet? If not, why not?

3) If you choose a female animal, will you agree to have her spayed, and give the human society a $20 deposit to hold until that time?

"Concerning question two," Richards continued, "it's surprising how many people will come in to buy a family pet, while the family knows nothing about the prospective addition. This, of course, is unfair. It doesn't make for good initial relations between the family and the pet. If an animal's going to be a family pet, we prefer to have the whole family come down to the shelter to pick it out."

"Where Christmas is concerned," Richards went on, "it's natural for people to want to give pets as gifts. However, we like to make certain that whoever's going to receive the pet, will like it and want to keep it."

"Because of this," Richards said, "we ask people to consider the following:

1) If you plan to give a pet as a Christmas gift to another person, are you certain the other person wants that kind of animal? Will he know how to care for it?

2) Are you aware that a puppy will go through a stage of chewing and digging as he gets older?

3) Are you aware of the expense of owning a pet? Dog licenses, pet foods, inoculations and other expenses?"

Richards continued, "Experience has taught us that most pets bought as Christmas gifts are returned before the New Year. A happy, healthy well-trained pet can bring much pleasure to its owner. But a pet that is neglected, sick, abused or allowed to become a neighborhood nuisance is no source of pleasure for any sane person."

"If after considering every aspect of what it means to 'adopt' and live with a pet, a person is willing to adopt a homeless puppy or kitten, we're happy to cooperate with him in every way," Richards said.

"We've got quite a variety of cats and dogs here at the shelter. We've got many different sizes, colors, ages and breeds. Some of the animals have already had their medical inoculations, too. And," Richards stressed, "our prices are reasonable. On the average, we'll sell a male dog for about $8; a female for $5. Male cats are $2, and females $1. I think that's about as reasonable as we can get."

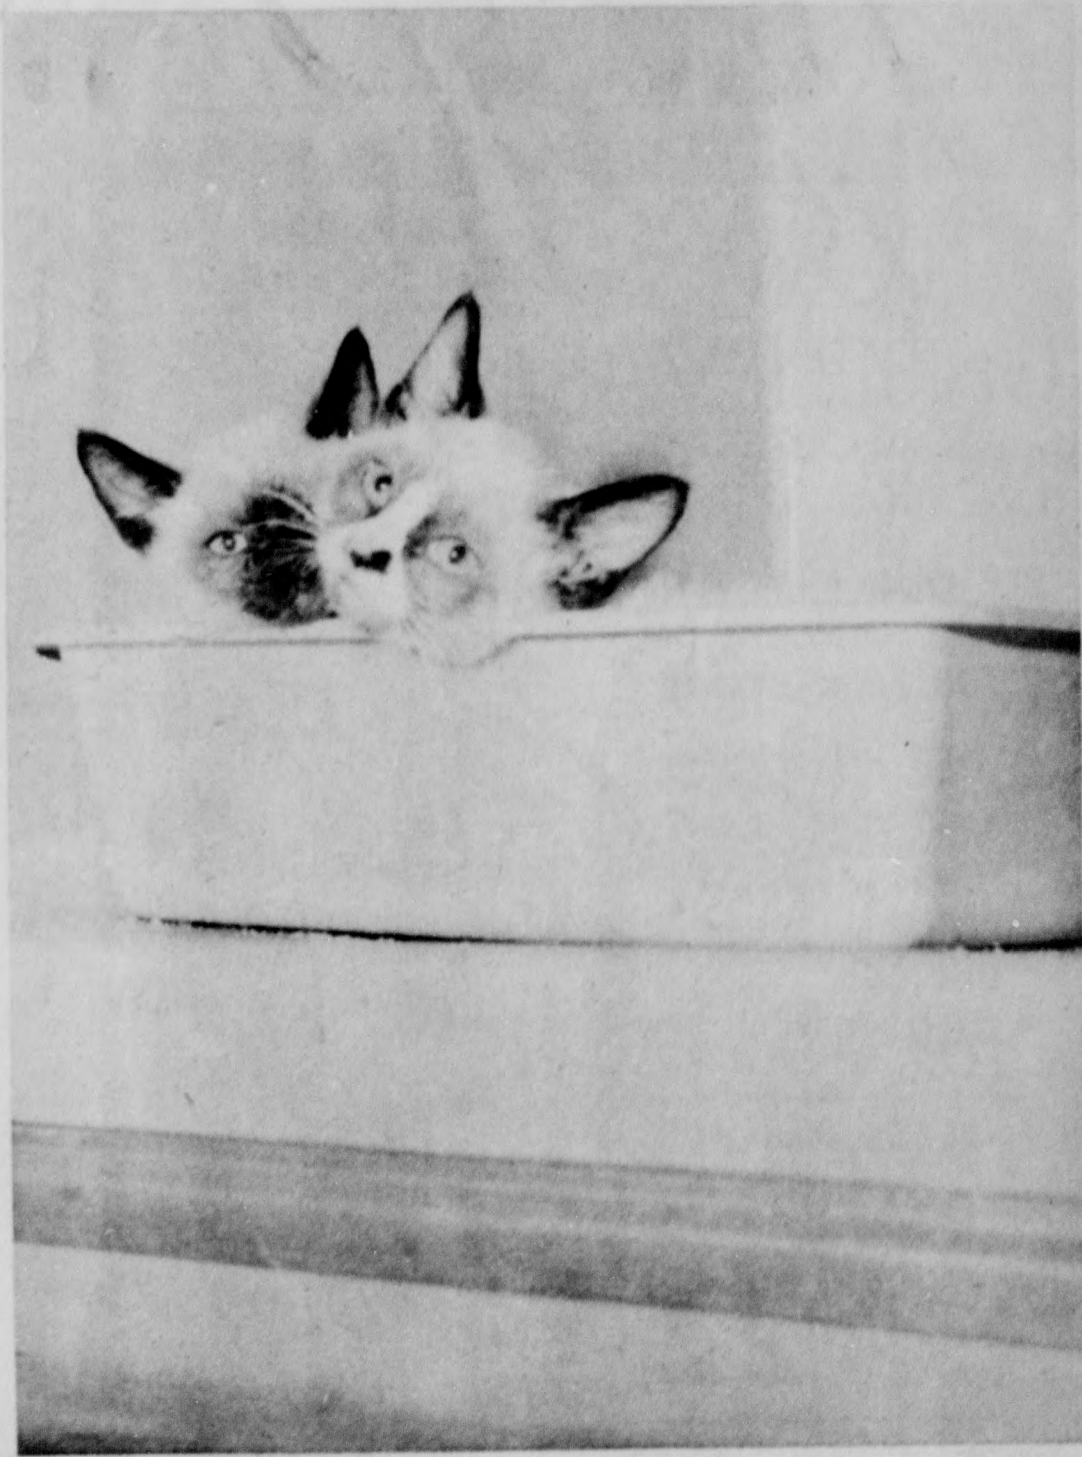

Richards said visiting hours at the shelter are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Sundays and holidays. "However, during the Christmas season, we plan to stay open on Sunday, Dec. 17."

The shelter is located at the corner of W. Mission Blvd., and Roselawn Ave.,--just next door to General Dynamics--in Pomona. The telephone number is (714) 622-1059.

"The Pomona Valley Junior Women's Club will be helping our staff on the weekend prior to Christmas," Richards added. "They'll help with adoptions and serve refreshments to all visitors."

Summing up, Richards concluded, "I hope residents of the Pomona Valley will consider the feelings of animals as well as those of their friends and family this holiday season."

"It would be nice if 'everybody' could be made happy this Christmas."

OPEN:

A crash program to involve the man in the street in writing government strategies for air pollution control was announced today by the Christmas Seals Associations of California.

Air pollution control measures strong enough to implement the federal Clean Air Act are sure to affect the way every citizen lives, works, and travels. Yet the man in the street has had little chance to weigh the various proposals, and less to make his choices known to government.

Just how clean and how safe do people want the air they breathe to be -- and how soon?

Following an intensive information effort, the public's answers will be gathered and forwarded to the federal Environmental Protection Agency, which is assisting in funding the program, and to governmental agencies at all levels concerned with air quality.

Under the provisions of the federal Act each state must prepare an implementation plan stating what it proposes to do about air pollution, and when, inadequate or foot-dragging plans can be strengthened or speeded up by the E.P.A.

State and local agencies have been working on these plans for more than a year. The problem is that federal Primary Standards based on air quality essential to health are strict, and some of the air quality control regions in California -- particularly the South Coast Air Basin which includes Los Angeles -- already regularly exceed these levels.

Graham O. Smith, Director of the Los Angeles based program, says, "We will aim at a cross-section of civic groups, environmentalists, labor, industry and commerce, and above all, private citizens." Effective audio-visual programs will be shown throughout Southern California. The objective will be to give the citizen a basic understanding of the options so that he can make his choices with confidence.

In early February an open meeting will be held in Los Angeles to review state and federal plans and to propose additions or alternatives. Thereafter, the program will press for adoption of the citizen-proposed measures, and will continue to function as a center for public information and a spokesman for the newly defined public interest in air pollution control.

"The average citizen may not be willing to bear the costs of clean and healthful air," says Smith, "but then again, he may be a lot more interested in getting the job done than his various governments may have assumed."

Further information on the program is available through local offices of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association or direct from its Los Angeles office on Beverly Blvd., 483-3220.

wide-awake styles

... even for those late, late calls. Like the STARLITE® telephone... the dainty high-style phone with a dial that glows. It's ideal for her vanity or night table for after-dark dialing, or just as a friendly soft night light (with adjustable brightness). Bedroom or breakfast nook, kitchen or rumpus room... every home should have a second phone, a step- and work-saver for your greater pleasure, convenience and security. Wherever your need, whatever your taste or decor, there's a fascinating selection of styles, colors and special-purpose telephones in General Telephone's Extension Extravaganza.

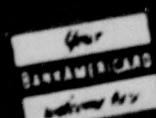

STARLITE® telephone puts the works right in the palm of your hand. Handset, dial and recall button. Make call after call without setting down the phone. Comes in white, green, ivory, yellow, pink, beige, or avocado.

CHESTPHONE — a real man-type decorator phone for the living room, his special room, desk or table. Modern stylized instrument handsomely set in a black leather chest with walnut trim... in carved walnut... or even with a sardonyx stone hunting scene inset on the lid!

CANDLESTICK PHONE... the new-fashion old-fashioned phone styled right out of the roaring twenties in Black Bottom Black, Whiffenpoof White and Razzamatazz Red. Except that we did away with the separate, big old bell box.

CRADLEPHONES... General Telephone's very last word in sophisticated styling — Mediterranean, Grecian Cameo, Brocade, Antique White... all resplendent with gold trim and fingerwheels. Conversation pieces right out of another world.

'Pitch-In' Aims At Litter

Litter prevention is more than simply "cleaning up." It also means changing habits and attitudes that have developed over many years. Removal of litter itself is sometimes relatively simple, but the prevention of litter is a continuing educational task, one that should be looked upon as a long-range proposition and one that demands persistent effort and continuing innovation. Litter costs U.S. taxpayers $500 million annually for removal of litter from streets, parks, beaches and other public property. However, litter is one pollution problem that can be solved, if we all pitch in and do our share.

Raw Sugar Not 'Sweet'

"The nutrition claims for raw sugar are very misleading," states a University of California agricultural advisor. Advocates of raw sugar argue that it is a significant source of iron. However, the little bit of iron you get from raw sugar is not worth the additional cost. If raw sugar was our only source of iron, this claim might then be justified.

Many other foods contribute far more iron. Red meats, including liver, heart and other organs, eggs, whole grain cereals, and dark green, leafy vegetables are high in iron and have other vitamins and minerals, too.

One cup of raw sugar has the same iron content as: 1/4 cup brown sugar, or 2/3 ounce beef liver, or one ounce heart or 2 ounces ground beef, or 2 1/2 slices whole-wheat or enriched bread.

Six pounds of raw sugar will supply your day's need for thiamin, one of the B vitamins. You can judge from these figures that raw sugar is not a significant source of either thiamin or iron.

The minerals removed in refining sugar are mainly potash, lime and magnesia. The average American diet includes foods, like green plants for magnesium, that are naturally high in these mineral elements. Therefore, there is no reason for suspecting their loss works any nutritional handicap.

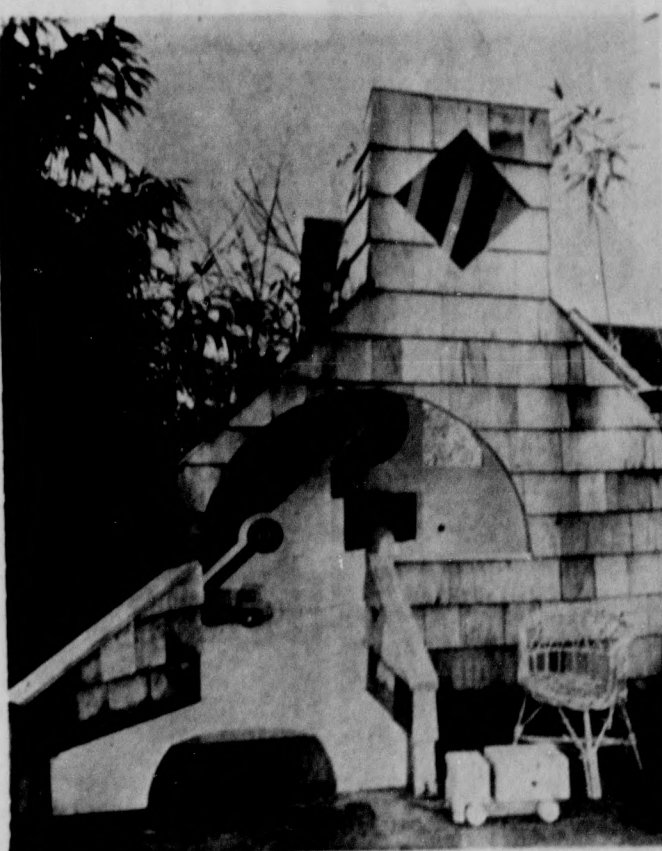

"Pitch In!"--a new litter prevention campaign launched by the United States Brewers Assn.--is for everybody and a way for all to help keep America Beautiful.

Displays Featured

The Norman F. Sprague Memorial Library on the Harvey Mudd College campus is featuring three first-floor displays over the coming holidays which may be of interest, not only to faculty and students, but to area residents. Sprague Library, in operation less than a year, is the engineering and science library for The Claremont Colleges. "The Mathematicians of Claremont" in the center cases of the first-floor foyer presents a display of books authored by members of the mathematics faculties at Claremont. Mathematical models and graphs are part of the display.

Another exhibit, "The Life Sciences at Sprague," gives an overview of works in natural history, biology, physiology, and the medical sciences taken from collections now in the library. Color nature photographs are used as props in the exhibit.

Special holiday hours at Sprague begin Dec. 19 and end Jan. 2. Between those dates the library will be open weekdays 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and will be closed Dec. 23, 24, and 25, and again on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

PLAYHOUSE SURREALISM -- Children should be fascinated with this ultra-modern shingled playhouse. Not only will it give them a place of their own, it will make them feel sophisticated. Easy-to-follow plans for playhouse construction are available by writing the Red Cedar Shingle and Handsplit Shake Bureau, 5510 White Building, Seattle, Wash. 98101.

Garage Sale

*Of all man's creative and noble endeavors and the challenges they entail,
The one I cherish nearest my heart is shopping the neighborhood sale.*

*Such an assortment of goods to behold that it seems to be a mirage.
Some on the patio, some on the porch,
but the good stuff's in the garage.*

*Garage Sales are thick all around us on every day that's sunny,
With people selling things they don't need and making lots of money.*

*I can browse and dicker, putter and talk,
I can shop til my face turns blue.
I may have a purpose or I may have none, but every Garage Sale is new.*

*I may come home with a thimble, or a tractor to do my mowing.
But whether I buy a thing or not,
the fun was in the going.*

*some day I'll have a Garage Sale myself.
Right now I'm making the plans.
I'm sorting away all sorts of goodies . . .
anything I get in my hands.*

*There'll be silver spoons, vaudeville tunes, and rocking chairs by the score
TV sets and basketball nets, dresses and clothing galore.*

*Oh, they're not things I really need,
and the sale will be a pleasure.
The people who buy, whatever they buy,
to them it will be a treasure.*

When I finally reach the Pearly Gate and Saint Peter greets me at dawn, He'll say, "Turn right at the Golden Street, there's a Garage Sale going on."

the SUPERHOMES

We designed them. Now you decide which community is for you. We singled out three choice locations in an area you can't afford to miss. We already know you like the Southland.
And why not? With so much to offer, the Southland is your kind of place. But step out just a little way and leave the big city bustle and traffic behind. Take a look at the foothills.

Each of these intriguing locations is just minutes by freeway from mountains, sea, deserts and lakeside resorts. Every weekend can be a vacation. All maintain that rural community atmosphere and yet are conveniently close to excellent schools, shopping and varied entertainment.
A relaxed country attitude prevails here and the uncrowded foothills offer their unbounded expanse for vista and adventure. Room to roam is yours for the asking!

Here the famous grape vineyards and citrus orchards have not yet bent to the ways of development. Delight in the vision of snow-capped mountains through your own window this winter! Here are new places to explore and room to follow a dream.

The ADVENTURER, LANDMARK and EXPLORER are the superhomes in this new community. Yours for a brand new future! We found the spot where the foothills begin
